

Exercises

L-5 Q/Ans

A. What Did I Learn?

1. Answer the following questions:

- a) Describe the Chinese Sea.
- b) Why was it difficult for the crew to stand on the deck ?
- c) What were Bunsby's misgivings ?
- d) Why did they decide to steer towards Shanghai ?
- e) Why did Fogg wish to signal to the American steamer ?

CLASS - 6th

L:5

DATE: ___/___/___
PAGE: _____

From Hongkong to Shanghai

Answer of the question.

- 1) The Chinese seas are boisterous, subjected to terrible gales of wind, especially during the equinoxes and it was now early November.
- 2) The sea was very rough in the straits, full of eddies formed by the counter currents, and it became difficult to stand on deck.
- 3) Bunsby saw the rising of the storm with dark misgivings.
- 4) They decided to steer towards Shanghai because the flow was towards Shanghai and it was closer and easier to reach there.
- 5) Fogg signaled that they should go to Shanghai.